Life In Arkansas

It would be a pretty exciting thing if you could see that fellow in person who leaps tall buildings in a single bound.

In the meantime, though, residents of Batesville can view something almost as exciting.

J. N. Waugh & Sons of Batesville haven't tried to move a mountain yet, but they have a machine that digs, balls, transports, sets and plants trees—automatically.

After seeing the machine in operation, the Batesville Guard asked, "Who needs the Jolly Green Giant or Paul Bunyan?"

The Vermeer Tree Mover is equipped with two hydraulically operated "cutting cups" that cut the tree ball surrounding the tree in minutes.

It then lifts the tree and ball out of the hole and lays it on the carrying trailer of the transport. At the planting site, the tree is lifted upright hydraulically and set into the receiving hole.

"The entire operation as accomplished with little, if any, damage to the surrounding area," Waugh said.

So, for those persons who move to another section of town or maybe even to another city and don't want to leave behind their favorite shade tree, this is the answer.

Mrs. Opal L. Whitfield of Trumann has had her first book published. It's titled "Thoughts of Hope," and was released through Dorrance & Co., of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Whitfield writes in a style that gently encourages the reader to reevaluate his current situation in the light of the religious truths contained in them.

Two Killed on Arkansas' Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two persons were killed and at least 11 others injured in a spectacular five-car pileup on Interstate 30 in Benton Thursday night.

The deaths raised to six the number of persons killed in Arkansas traffic accidents during the long Thanksgiving holiday weekend. The Associated Press toll of holiday traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Eleven persons died in Arkansas traffic accidents during the Thanksgiving period last year.

State Police said the Benton pileup claimed the lives of Benjamin Davis, 66, of Texarkana, Tex., and Lee Bonner, 54, of Benton.

Officers said Davis was traveling south in the northbound lane of the interstate when his car collided with a car driven by Robert A. Ankes, 39, of Cabot.

Officers said Bonner was struck by another car as he stood on the shoulder of the interstate about 25 minutes after the initial collision.

A car driven by Dock Thompson, 60, of Little Rock careened off a vehicle driven by James Brown of Little Rock and hit Bonner, police said. Officers said the Brown vehicle had slowed down as it approached the accident scene. The Thompson car also struck a Benton police car, officers said.

Officers said that seven of the injured were treated and released from hospitals Thursday night.

The injured included seven members of the Ankes family. They were Ankes' wife, Elizabeth, 33, and the couple's six children, Sue, 18, Linda, 16, Greg, 14, Jeff, 5, James, 4, and Rodney, 2.

Three persons in Davis' car were injured—his mother, Jul Smith, 85, and his grandchildren, Salina Hoff, 7, and Tommy Hoff, 5.

Police said Brown was accompanied by his wife and two children and that one of the Brown children was slightly injured.

Two other persons were killed Thursday in separate accidents. Bessie Williams, 68, of Lincoln was killed when the car in which she was riding smashed into a bus inside the Lincoln city limits on U.S. 62.

President Happy on Thanksgiving

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — If President Johnson regretted that this was his last Thanksgiving as chief executive, it didn't show as he gathered family and friends at the ranch for the traditional feast and some unusual—even for Johnson—church-going.

The head of the Johnson clan was relaxed and smiling as he took the wheel himself to pilot a station wagon full of family, friends and staff to church Thursday. It was the second of three services he went to in 24-hour span.

Then the President posed for pictures on the sunny ranch lawn with Mrs. Johnson, daughters Luci Nugent and Lynda Robb, grandson Lyn and No. 1 presidential pet, Yuki the mongrel.

Lynda's month-old daughter Lucinda was excused from the session for a nap.

At the morning service at St. Barnabas Episcopal Church, 15 miles away in Fredericksburg, the Johnsons heard prayers for the families of trapped miners, Americans at war and for the President himself.

The vicar, the Rev. William E. Campbell, singled out "the families of suffering in the mine tragedy" in West Virginia, "those serving their country in Vietnam," and then told his congregation of 50:

"Let us pray for our land, for our President, and for the peace of the whole world."

The President went to St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic Church at nearby Stonewall Thursday night where the Rev. W. W. Schneider said "I am very glad you came to help us pray for peace."

Referring to the Paris peace talks, Father Schneider prayed that Johnson and other leaders be given "courage and strength to pursue this peace program."

Accompanying the President were Luci, appointments secretary Jim Jones and his wife, and White House secretary Marie Fehmer.

Johnson had gone Wednesday night to Trinity Lutheran Church just across the road from the ranch where he also heard prayers for peace.

The three services were a bit out of the ordinary for Johnson even though he has been making it a practice of late to attend two of the three churches on Sundays when in Texas.

The Johnsons had their Thanksgiving dinner in the evening, putting it off from 6 o'clock to around 8 so Luci could go to Austin for the Texas-Texas A&M football game.

"Patrick will never forgive me if I didn't go to the game," Luci said, referring to her husband, as she left the morning services.

The Johnson dinner had all the usual trimmings from cornbread dressing to their favorite dessert of ambrosia, plus something new—both wild turkey and the farm bird variety.

not recognize the Saigon delegation and would address all their remarks to the United States only—thus envisioning a three-sided affair.

The Communists claim the Saigon regime is a "U.S. puppet" and does not represent the people of South Vietnam.

The U.S. delegation headed by Ambassador Averell Harriman has not said it will not talk to anybody, so it might become a "relay" for comments traded by the other groups.

A perplexed newsman asked a U.S. spokesman whether he would object to the use of "four-party" to describe the parley.

"I certainly would," said the spokesman, "but I would defend with my life you: right to write it."

In Saigon, a foreign ministry spokesman would not comment on Hanoi's announcement that it would talk only to the United States. He said he knew of no change in plans to send a delegation to Paris, expected to arrive within the next few days.

U.S. sources have said they expect the first session of talks some time in the week of Dec. 8.

At Bien Hoa, South Vietnamese Premier Tran Van Huong warned, "Peace cannot be achieved overnight. We have the experience in Korea." But he added, "If we have good will and are determined in our efforts for a just and lasting peace, it will come."

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky will be in overall charge of the Saigon negotiators, but he will not participate in the talks. He is expected to travel frequently between Saigon and Paris as a liaison man.

U.S. diplomats were hopeful that when the Paris conference gets going ways will be found to scale down the fighting. They doubted that preconference propaganda blasts signaled any Communist intent to collapse the meeting.

The South Vietnamese were busy making arrangements to match those of the other delegations, already well settled in Paris. They have leased 12 rooms on the first floor of a mansion and are acquiring a diplomatic communications circuit to Saigon.

An advance man for Ky, Nguyen Thien Nhon, headed back to Saigon after a five-day stay.

Group Plans New Party in Missouri

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Members of unsuccessful third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace's Missouri campaign committee are to meet in Columbia Saturday to begin organizing a permanent American party in the state.

"We definitely intend to run candidates in 1970, from U.S. Senator right on down the line, wherever we can find good men to run," said Floyd Kitchen of Maplewood, Wallace's state campaign manager.

Kitchen said the meeting Saturday will deal mostly with legal requirements for permanent status.

A similar meeting of Wallace supporters in Arkansas will be held in Little Rock Dec. 7. Wallace carried Arkansas, moving the state out of the Democratic column in a presidential race for the first time since Reconstruction.

Nebraskan to Fight for Party Post

By JACK KNEECE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nebraska's Roman L. Hruska plans a hard campaign for the post of assistant Republican leader, or party whip, in the Senate, but says he doesn't want "a bloody field with bodies lying around."

"I am not standing idly by. I am seeking the post," Hruska, just back from a trip abroad, told an interviewer.

The whip job was opened up by the primary defeat of California's Thomas H. Kuchel, a liberal-moderate Republican. The only other announced candidate for the job is Pennsylvania's Hugh Scott, also a liberal-moderate.

Scott notified his colleagues by letter that he wants the job, but other than that his campaigning has been behind the scenes.

While Hruska was in Europe last week, his supporters said they already had commitments from 23 of the 42 Republican senators in the new Congress—more than enough to insure his election.

Scott's backers disagree, saying the contest is still wide open.

"We're certainly not going to leave a bloody field with bodies lying around," Hruska said in discussing the contest. "But I have made it known to my colleagues that I aspire to it and that I hope they feel I could make the judgments the post of whip requires."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen has indicated he would like to avoid a party-splitting fight by a compromise under which Hruska would be the assistant leader and Scott would be chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, a position that will offer little more than a platform for dissent.

The policy committee post is due to the retirement of Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa.

The two jobs will be filled when Republican senators caucus at the opening of the new congressional session in January.

Scott backed Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York in his unsuccessful bid for the Republican presidential nomination this year while Hruska was an early and vocal supporter of

Friday, November 29, 1968
President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Scott's backers say they have been assured that Nixon will stay out of the fight.

Other Republican senators mentioned as possibilities for the two vacant leadership positions include Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, Robert P. Griffin of Michigan and James B. Pearson of Kansas.

More Rain Expected in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U.S. Weather Bureau said today that Arkansians can expect more rain during the weekend, moving in from a low pressure wave that is expected to develop in the western Gulf of Mexico tonight.

The bureau forecasts a 20 percent chance of rain for southern portions of the state Saturday.

Following clear sky conditions throughout the state today, increasing cloudiness is forecast for tonight and Saturday.

The low tonight will range from the 30s in the north to the low 40s in the south. Maximum temperatures Saturday will be in the upper 40s and 50s.

Princess Wins Her Lawsuit

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Princess Margaret of Niscomi, American-born, won her case against a movie Thursday when a court ordered that the family name of her late husband be changed in a story about a Mafia plot.

The Princess, nee Hirsch, of Philadelphia, won a ban against the Italian-made movie "Oglio Vedova" (Better a Widow) on Nov. 18 when a court ordered showings suspended in Sicily "to avoid prejudice to the di Niscomi family."

The final court ruling ordered that the film's "Prince di Niscomi" take the name "Prince Mascanti," and said showings could resume when the change was made.

Princess de Niscomi met and married the Sicilian prince in America where he once spent much of his time.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

NOT THE TIME OR PLACE

Dear Helen: My boyfriend who is 15, wrote me a poem. At the bottom he put "P.S. Please excuse my awful spelling. I can't help being dumb."

He isn't dumb, and I didn't want him to think he is, so I casually suggested he use a dictionary when unsure of a word. He looked very hurt and said he wished he'd never written the poem.

I only wanted to help. What did I do wrong? — D.T.H.

Dear D: If a boy brought you flowers, would you tell him a few are wilted? This was no time to play teacher, Honey. — H.

Dear Helen: The "new morality" as I understand it, is "making your own decision, based on the common good." That is, to set out rigid rules like "Good girls don't" and ask, "Is this right for us, and will it hurt anyone?" Well, maybe that works for very mature people. But the mature ones aren't buying the philosophy as much as the immature ones who figure it means "Anything goes, and if I don't go along, I won't get to go out with anyone."

If we were very wise, we could live without rules. Isn't it a shame we aren't taught first to be wise — through sex education in schools for one thing — before we're handed a new concept we aren't ready for? — PHILOSOPHER, JUNIOR GRADE

Dear Phil: Certainly is. The greatest shame is that the too-young latch on to the idea without understanding the concept. What may sometimes work for mature, thinking adults can turn a teen's life into a shambles. And I have thousands of letters to prove it! — H.

Dear Helen: We started dating when I was 16 and he was 18. He was the first fellow I really loved. I didn't want to go all the way, but he convinced me it was right.

About two weeks later, he broke up with me because he had found another girl. In a month, he was back, and he almost cried when he apologized for dumping me. He said he'll always love me, and — well, I tried to tell him I didn't want any more sneaking, but somehow he won because I love him.

It's now kind of like we're an old married couple, except we aren't, and I hate the physical part because it's all shame and worry, and being afraid someone will catch us when we park on lonely roads. But if I stop that part, he'll drop me. He gets mad and says I'm foolish to be "so old-fashioned," but I can't help the way I feel. Can you tell me where all this will

Can't Neglect Negroes Work

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Negroes are setting up a panel of 12 historians, white and black, to screen movie and television scripts and make certain that Negro contributions to history aren't neglected.

Caleb Peterson, president of the Hollywood Race Relations Bureau, announced the plans but said there will be no censorship. He said his office wants only to insure that the part "the black man played in that particular era" is properly represented.

Movie studios which reject their demands will be picketed and first-run theaters will be boycotted, he added.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A mood piece, spun delicately with words, is difficult enough to pull off successfully. And to translate it effectively into another medium, television, is quite an accomplishment indeed.

Yet, for the second time, a sensitive production and acting team has managed to fashion a sensitive, moving and altogether memorable occasion out of what must be identified as a semi-autobiographical vignette — drama is too powerful a word — by Truman Capote.

The first was 1966's "A Christmas Memory." On Thursday night it was "The Thanksgiving Memory," and it lived up, surprisingly, to expectations built by the first show.

Geraldine Page once again portrayed Miss Sook, the child-like, romantic and aging spinster with extraordinary human insight, the "best friend" and comfort of Buddy, a small lonely boy living with cousins during a crisis in his own family. Michael Kearney, once again in the role, was heart-rendingly effective as the boy.

The story line was simple: Buddy was harassed by an older, bigger bully and had no one to turn to except the loving and sympathetic Sookie, herself bullied by two hard-eyed sisters and a stern, unsympathetic brother.

Buddy, too small to stand up to the bully and too young to talk up to his elders, suffered. Miss Sook dreamed of far-away places and pinned all her dreams on selling a cameo pin that she fondly believed was worth enough money to carry her and Buddy from the farm home to the excitements of New Orleans.

The suspense came from Miss Sook's determination to convert the bully by inviting him to their Thanksgiving dinner. The plan worked until Buddy saw his enemy stealing the cameo — it was worthless — and summoned all his courage to denounce him at the table. The unexpected twist came with Miss Sook's bitter disappointment at Buddy's cruel action — "The greatest sin is to deliberately hurt another person."

Around this simple, nostalgic story, producer Frank Perry and his wife, Eleanor, who adapted Capote's gossamer, memoir to television, introduced some fascinating country types — members of Miss Sook's family, from the colorful matriarch with a secret recipe for banana pudding to a flirtatious young cousin. The photography was effective and perfectly in the mood of the hour.

Altogether it was a fine hour. Its one flaw seemed to be the choice of Capote himself as narrator: his high voice and careful pronunciation was not quite right in the context, even if he did write it and it was his story.

One hopes that, in spite of the seasonal aspect of the hour, ABC will find time some night soon when there are not as many holiday demands on the potential audience, to rerun the program.

	Still in Existence
	The Emancipation Proclamation as written by President Lincoln is still in existence. In 1864, the document was sold at a bazaar to benefit wounded soldiers. Later, the New York Legislature appropriated funds to buy the proclamation and added it to historic papers in Albany.
	Top pictures show the Hope Lady Cats dropping their season opener at Jones Field House Tuesday night to a polished Cale squad. The Lady Cats in the light colored vests, lost 42 to 35.
	Bottom photos show the "B" Boys in their losing bid against the Cale Senior Boys. Hope is in the dark jerseys. The Cale teams have already played several games and it was evident throughout both games.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

A profile familiar to most Americans, but whose identity is known by few, is the noble Indian head on the nickel designed by sculptor
James Earle Fraser, which first appeared in 1913. In 1931, The World Almanac notes, Fraser revealed that the profile was actually a composite of three Indians named Iron Tail, Two Moons and a third Indian whom he could no longer recall.

Let the Lads Decorate

Privacy is possible to a degree in a small bedroom shared by two boys. The key is to arrange furniture so each has individual territory to call his own for toys, study desk, books and games. Bunk beds used as a room divider in the center of a wall and not shoved parallel against one wall mark off each boy's area of privacy. The lads take it from there. Shown here is the bunk bed with space stretched to fit an open bookshelf and chest for each. On the wall opposite the bunk bed-chest arrangement, fit corner desks. These scuttle any excuses on not doing homework because brother is using the only desk. Each boy decorates his bailiwick. For example, the younger boy uses a miniature hobby horse and drum, plus a globe and books to mark his territory. The older brother shows his maturing interest with a musical instrument, flags, schooner and horse plaques. For extra storage for clothes and athletic equipment, mount wooden drawer pulls on the wall. Here boards are used for this and to add architectural interest. Furniture of the same design and color unify the room. Furniture here is especially designed for young Americans by Kemp Furniture Co.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Q—Although I have a goiter, my thyroid is underactive and I am taking thyroid pills. Should I also take iodine pills to keep my goiter small?

A—Most persons with a colloid-type goiter have normal or nearly normal thyroid function. The victim is usually given thyroid extract and iodine separately or in combination. When this treatment is started early in the course of the disease the goiter usually disappears. The dosage of the drugs may then be reduced but a small maintenance dose should be continued indefinitely.

Q—Can a large thyroid increase cause a nervous person who is overweight to lose weight rapidly enough to bring on a nervous collapse? If a person has no goiter but needs thyroid, would it cause nervousness? Is this drug habit-forming?

A—Thyroid extract has long been discredited as a means of weight reduction because it is likely to cause extreme nervous tension. If a person has a deficiency of thyroid hormone, the amount of thyroid extract he takes must be carefully regulated to prevent abnormal nervous tension. Thyroid extract, like insulin for diabetes, is a replacement therapy. Its function is the restoration of normal metabolism. Thus, although it may have to be taken indefinitely, this is not true addiction.

Q—Are there different kinds of thyroid pills for goiter or to bring the blood pressure up? Are they given for arthritis?

A—There are several kinds of thyroid replacement pills. Although they may cause some elevation in the blood pressure that is not their main function. Some victims of thyroid deficiency have joint pains (not true arthritis) that are benefited by thyroid extract.

Q—What is Hashimoto's disease? Does it cause tremors or protruding eyes? Is it serious?

A—Hashimoto's disease is chronic thyroiditis. Fine tremors and protruding eyes occur in persons with an overactive thyroid. Since, in Hashimoto's disease, the thyroid function, which is normal at first, may drop, it would not cause these symptoms. When treated with appropriate doses of thyroid extract the disease can be cured.

Oscar (Ockie) and Anita (Pigeon) Davis of Beaumont, Tex., like bridge tournaments. Pigeon has done most of the playing for the family and has established herself as one of the top players of the country. Ockie started putting in an occasional appearance at the table a few years ago and has managed to get half way to Life Master status.

We have had a lot of fun with him and keep offering to bet that Jim O. Jacoby, age six, will beat him to Life Master. We have withdrawn offers of this nature since watching Ockie play today's hand in Lake Charles, La.

We aren't sure that his bidding will get full approval

Checkmate: P.O. Won't Preserve Space for Stamp

This morning's mail brought us an adverse report from the Post Office Department, Washington, D.C., to our letter of Nov. 15 protesting the printing of the words "Place Stamp Here" in the space usually reserved for postage on envelopes — which practice works a hardship on users of postage meters. Here is the federal letter:

Mr. Alex. H. Washburn
Editor & Publisher
Hope Star
Post Office Box 648
Hope, Arkansas 71801

Dear Mr. Washburn:

"Place Stamp Here" is printed on many mailing pieces to help assure that postage will be prepaid by the user before deposit in the mails. Mailing pieces not so prepaid would have to be rated "Postage Due" and the postage collected from the addressee at the time of delivery. The rating of mail as "Postage Due" and the subsequent postal handling and delivery procedures are costly and undesirable to both the postal service and its patrons.

We have noticed many instances where the "Place Stamp Here" message was printed so inconspicuously that it did not detract from the legibility of the postage meter stamp or postmark cancellation.

Since we have not encountered any operational difficulties with the use of this message on mail matter and because its use is not prohibited, we do not believe that we would be justified at this time in acting to discontinue its use.

Thank you for permitting us to explain our position to you on this matter.

Sincerely yours,
RALPH R. REA
Director
Special Services Branch

Nov. 25, 1968
Post Office Dept.
Bureau of Operation
Washington, D.C.
20260

You will note that the Post Office Department's reply parallels the letter from the Internal Revenue Service also rejecting our complaint, which letter was published Nov. 13.

The Post Office's contention that in "many instances" the offending type is so inconspicuous that it doesn't interfere with the print of the postage meter challenges a question of fact — and is a pretty feeble rejoinder.

Federal agencies usually back up one another when confronted by a private citizen's complaint. I cited three specific cases of illegibility of meter stamping over previous printing on envelopes: State Revenue Department, Little Rock; Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. district office, Hot Springs; and the Internal Revenue Service, Washington. I am left with the impression that had I cited only the first two my complaint might have been heard — but the mere mention of IRS invited a summary dismissal.

O.K. — so that's how it is. The State Revenue Department and Southwestern Bell have agreed to co-operate by removing "Place Stamp Here" from their return-addressed envelopes — but the federal agencies defy common sense.

I suggest that if you employ a postage meter you do what I'm going to instruct our office to do: Use the meter imprint over the black-type "Place Stamp Here" message — and then, if some post office returns the envelope to you because of the postage amount being illegible turn the envelope over to me as evidence.

Not getting anywhere in direct correspondence with Washington I plan to take up the "clobbered envelope" question with nationwide business and graphic arts publications and determine whether the federalists can't be made to see the error of their ways.

If I get the response I expect to get I'll have a case I can lay before Congressman John Paul Hammerschmidt calling for a congressional inquiry.

In the News

THE SOUTH VIETNAMESE government has announced that it is sending a delegation to Paris to join in expanded peace talks. Already in Paris are these Vietnamese: Nguyen Thanh Le, left, representing North Vietnam; Pham Dang Lam, center, head of Saigon's observer mission; and Duong Dinh Thao of the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong).

HEADED FOR THE CAPITAL, this 115-year-old Engelmann spruce has been chosen as the National Christmas Tree for 1968. It is shown at the Ulfra National Forest, Utah, being loaded for shipment to Washington, D.C. The 74-foot tree will be wrapped in a protective coat of burlap and loaded aboard a steamer.

Admits Putting Foot in Mouth

LONDON (AP) — Sir Dingle Foot, a distinguished British lawyer and politician, admitted he put his foot in his mouth today by inadvertently giving Her Majesty's judges a lecture on their sex lives.

Foot, former legal adviser to Prime Minister Harold Wilson, quoted the fifth chapter of St. Paul's epistles to the Corinthians before a church congregation of judges and their wives.

"I actually hear reports of sexual immorality among you," he read. The jurists squirmed.

"Your self-satisfaction ill becomes you," Foot plowed on. "You are judges within the fellowship. Root out the evil-doer within your community."

Sir Dingle said later he intended to read from the first chapter of St. Paul's epistles, but by the time he realized he was on the wrong track "it was too late."

The scripture reading occurred at a chapel in Gray's Inn, where many lawyers and judges live and work.

Balance of Trade Shows Big Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States balance of trade showed a deficit of $53 million in October with both exports and imports falling sharply from their record September levels, the Commerce Department said today.

October exports of $2,594 billion showed an adjusted decline of 20 per cent from the September high. The decrease was spread generally throughout all commodity groups.

Among nonagricultural products, which accounted for more than five-sixths of the drop, notable declines showed in exports of non-electrical machinery, chemicals, crude materials and fuels.

October imports declined slightly more than 10 per cent from September, totaling $2,657 billion.

The decrease was widespread, with lower shipments reported and from oil, other ores, as well as metals generally.

Cong Charges U.S. With Acts of War

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam charged today the United States carried out new bombing attacks deep in its territory Thursday and demanded an end of what it said "were acts of war."

American comment on the North Vietnamese charge was not immediately available.

Reports from Saigon have carried no mention of bombing attacks north of the demilitarized zone dividing North and South Vietnam.

A spokesman for Hanoi's delegation at the Paris peace talks asserted the American bombings had occurred for the third straight day Thursday.

"The United States' acts of war are in violation of national sovereignty and security of the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam," he said.

The spokesman charged that three F4 jets of the U.S. Air Force dropped explosives and fragmentation bombs on four villages and hamlets in the Province of Quang Binh. One of the villages attacked, he said, is more than 40 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

The United States has claimed the right to send planes, under armed escort, over North Vietnam for reconnaissance. It also has warned the North Vietnamese that U.S. authorities will not hesitate to defend Americans imperiled by hostile actions or to go to the rescue of the crews of downed aircraft.

Baylor Fires Head Coach John Bridgers

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Baylor University fired John Bridgers, head football coach and athletic director for the past 10 years, Friday.

Baylor President Abner McCall announced that he had decided to uphold a recommendation by the five-man athletic council that the 43-year old Bridgers be dismissed.

Plymouth Was Real Busy

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — Restaurants were crowded Thursday with persons who came to celebrate Thanksgiving where it began.

The annual festivities followed the usual pattern with a group dressed as Pilgrims climbing the hill to the First Parish Church for a Thanksgiving service and a feast.

The Plymouth village, a reconstruction of the first settlement, and the Mayflower II, a replica of the ship that brought the Pilgrims to the new world, were the centers of attraction for thousands of visitors.

$33,810 for Schools at Washington

Washington School District at Washington has been notified by the Federal Programs Division of the State Department of Education that its program for the expenditure of $33,810 in Title I funds under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act has been approved, Associate Commissioner Wm H. Moore who heads the Federal Programs Division, announced this week.

This amount may vary slightly when final calculations on allotments are completed some time next month, Moore said. In all cases, however, counties will be receiving approximately eight per cent less Title I money than last year due to an ESEA cutback at the federal level, Moore explained. He added that a formula readjustment of the number of eligible children for school districts within each county has accounted for a slight increase in a few school districts and reductions beyond eight per cent in others.

The Washington District is receiving $14,333 less than it received in 1967-68, its Title I program which is planned for education: business education, English remedial reading, mathematics and natural science; under supportive services: attendance, clothing, food, dental and medical care, and transportation.

Another Big Blast Rips Mine Tomb

By JOE KROVITSKY
Associated Press Writer
MANNINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Another "major explosion" ripped through No. 9 today, spewing smoke and flame from the mine's Llewellyn portal near the area where 78 men have been trapped three days.

The early-morning blast, the 16th since the initial explosion Nov. 20, sent flames and a column of white smoke spiraling above the entrance.

Officials directing efforts to rescue the entombed miners promised a "very, very comprehensive evaluation" of the situation within the sprawling mine today.

Drillings made by boring through to the deep caverns below produced air samples showing high concentrations of deadly carbon monoxide and dangerous methane gas.

Peter P. Ferretti, a vice-president of Consolidation Coal Co., said the latest testings Thursday night were taken from an area where the men had been trained to go in case of disaster.

He described the testing area as a "very critical place." The carbon monoxide level was 50 times human capability while the methane concentration was 26.4 per cent. He said there is danger of explosion when methane reaches a level of between 5 and 15 per cent.

Ferretti said "we will make some decision" after the evaluation today.

Ferretti, asked Thursday night if the drill sites showed the same deadly air samples would mean sealing the mine, replied: "I can't comment on that. This, of course, is a possibility. All the information at this time doesn't look good. It doesn't look encouraging."

The mine normally draws air from one opening, through the tunnels and out another opening. When methane builds up, the officials said, the flow is reversed and air is drawn in from both ends. This feeds the fire which in turn ignites the methane and produces an explosion.

The 78 men were trapped Nov. 20 when a blast tore through the mine, owned by the Mountaineer Coal Co., a subsidiary of Consolidation. Twenty-

See ANOTHER BIG (on page two) Permanent Surcharge Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A permanent income tax surcharge, adjusted annually by Congress to promote maximum growth with price stability, is proposed by an economic adviser to President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

The moderate surtax, explained economist Herbert Stein, would be a stabilizing tool whose rates in some years could be "zero or even negative."

Stein heads a fiscal study team for Nixon and is director of economic studies at the Brookings Institution, privately supported organization for research in economics, government and the social sciences.

His is one of 18 studies published by Brookings under the title "Agenda for the Nation." Each essay deals with a major policy problem facing the new administration.

In the opening essay, former Budget Director Charles L. Schultze presents a detailed, four-year appraisal of the budget outlook after the Vietnam war. Even if a cease-fire takes place early in 1969 and troop deactivation begins at midyear, he found, there will be only $8 billion of "fiscal dividend," or leeway for new programs or tax cuts.

However, Schultze's report indicates the leeway would expand rapidly thereafter, because of rising revenues generated by economic growth, to a margin of some $38 billion by 1974.

He put tentative price tags on a number of proposed domestic programs and wound up with the judgment they could easily absorb the whole fiscal dividend, leaving no room for tax reduction.

Hanoi Insistence on Talking Only to U.S. Clouds Peace Parley

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — A top South Vietnamese spokesman said today an early cease-fire is a major priority in his government's peace plan, being prepared for presentation at the expanded talks here.

Nguyen Van An, the deputy chief of Saigon's observer mission in Paris, said South Vietnam also will demand "strong and effective international guarantees" in any final settlement.

The North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front have said a cease-fire is unlikely to be discussed until later in the negotiating process. They have said such discussion must be preceded by the withdrawal of American and other foreign troops from South Vietnam.

Van An spoke in an interview as Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, chief of the U.S. delegation, prepared to head home Sunday for a brief Washington visit.

Vietnam consultations were not listed as the main reason for his return, but Harriman was expected to confer with Pentagon officials on the four-day conference in which Saigon will participate.

The expanded parley now is expected to get going in the second week in December. The Saigon delegation, whose absence held up the meeting for a month, is due in Paris next week.

Hanoi's insistence that it will only talk to the United States and the refusal of South Vietnam and the NLF to recognize each others will make four-way conversation difficult when the expanded talks begin.

U.S. diplomats prefer to consider the conference — make-up two-sided — "our-side-your-side" — with American and Saigon negotiators on one side and Hanoi and the NLF on the other.

Saloon also considers the talks two-sided. South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu said Wednesday his delegation will address all its remarks to Hanoi, apparently ignoring the NLF. It considers the latter an outlaw tool of Hanoi.

North Vietnam and the NLF claim the talks will be "four-sided," with Hanoi and the Viet Cong each having separate negotiating status.

But at the same time, both announced Thursday they would see HANOI (on page two)

U.S. Pursues Enemy Into Cambodia

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Helicopter-borne U.S. Air Cavalrymen leapt along the Cambodian border today in pursuit of enemy troops fleeing to their sanctuaries after fierce Thanksgiving Day fighting.

U.S. headquarters said 25 enemy soldiers were killed in one battle during which helicopters and Air Force bombers sprayed the area with machine gun fire, rockets, bombs and cannons. No U.S. casualties were reported.

The new action raised to 283 the number of enemy troops killed in the last two days and to 426 the number of enemy slain since the first of the week in major fighting along the Cambodian border north of Saigon.

U.S. losses for the same period were 26 killed and 54 wounded. South Vietnam lost 10 dead and 20 wounded.

It was the heaviest fighting in the area since mid-September when a drive by the Communist command against the border provinces was beaten back.

The U.S. Command said constant pressure is being maintained on the 15,000 to 20,000 enemy troops believed deployed along the 100-mile stretch of Cambodian border.

Sparring that is expected to slow progress in the Paris peace talks for the next few weeks continued Thursday when North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front announced they would ignore the South Vietnamese delegation.

This further complicated the picture. South Vietnam considers the talks two-sided and said Wednesday it would address its remarks to North Vietnam and ignore the NLF.

In Laos, a country through which North Vietnam funnels the bulk of its supplies and troops along the Ho Chi Minh trail, to South Vietnam the Cabinet was called into emergency session today.

The group met to discuss reports of impending attack by 30,000 North Vietnamese troops on Attapeu and Saravane, two towns in the corner formed by Cambodia and northern South Vietnam. A Laotian army general said the move would follow attacks on Ban Thateng, 25 miles south of Saravane on Wednesday.

The officer said Hanoi has ordered the attack on the towns so that they can serve as transit stations, presumably for eventual movement back into South Vietnam's central highlands.

In a delayed report U.S. headquarters said a third American helicopter was shot down Wednesday during a series of a half a dozen fights 15 miles north of Saigon. Three Americans aboard were killed.

For the first time since the Nov. 1 bombing halt of North Vietnam there were no overnight shelling of district towns or provincial capitals, allied headquarters said. The calm in the demilitarized zone continued for the third straight day.

Local Group at State Farm Bureau Meet

A large group of Hempstead County Farm Bureau members attended the 34th annual Arkansas Farm Bureau Convention, November 25-27. The voting delegates from Hempstead County were: Lester Kent, B. C. Webb and Mrs. Mary Spates, which helped decide the organization's official policies for 1969.

The convention began Monday at the Arlington Hotel in Hot Springs, with special sessions for the Farm Bureau Women. Ladies from Hempstead County included: Mrs. Mary Spates, Mrs. Lester Kent, Mrs. Autrey Wilson, Mrs. Ralph Montgomery, Mrs. Warren Flyer, Miss D. Loras McBride, and Mrs. Vivian Alford.

Commodity conferences for field crops, livestock, poultry and dairy were attended by Autrey Wilson, Lester Kent, Ralph Montgomery, B.C. Webb, Coal Bittie and Troy Burson. Other special sessions were attended by Warren Flyer, Insurance agent, Calvin Caldwell and Robert Vandiver.

Picks Pro Winners on Weekend

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Throw out the form sheets this weekend, men. This is the time of year when big money is hanging out every touchdown in games played in snow, rain and sunshine by clubs that have been hit by injuries and illness.

Before the weekend is over the Green Bay Packers could be back on top. The Los Angeles Rams and Baltimore Colts will have a hint if they're going down to the wire to the that final game, Dec. 15.

Dallas may know if it will have to sweat it out with New York until the last day. Cleveland may be able to start selling tickets for the Dec. 21 Eastern Conference playoff.

Anybody can escape with his skin this week deserves a standing vote. Oh, well, only two more weeks after this one. Let's try once more. All games a 9 Sunday.

Kelly, Ernie Green and passing of Bill Nelsen figure too much for Giants' defense, which is coming on strong but may not be ready for this test. Count on Fran Tarkenton to shake up those new men in the Browns' defense. He might even pull it off for desperate Giants. Stick around to the end.

Los Angeles 13, Minnesota 10—The weatherman could shake up those warm-weather Rams in hostile climate. Vikings never stopped hitting despite loss in Baltimore. If they had more offense, we'd pick Vikings. They still could pull it out but you don't run on those Rams.

St. Louis 28, Pittsburgh 21—Once again, without great conviction. The Steelers led 21-0 at halftime when they played 28-28 tie Nov. 10. Steeler offense alive under Dick Snerd but interceptions are deadly. Cards' pass defense will need super effort but it's a must win for St. Louis to stay alive.

Green Bay 24, San Francisco 14—The name of the game still is defense. The Packers have it, especially against the passing game. Ken Willard will run on them but they must shut off John Brodie's air game. Return of Bart Starr should give Packers a lift.

Dallas, Washington, Detroit and Philadelphia are idle after Thursday games.

AFL Cincinnati 21, Boston 16—Patriots' leaky defense vulnerable to the run and Bengals have one of the best in rookie Paul Robinson with 912 yards. Neither club has a top flight quarterback, especially behind weak offensive lines.

New York 28, Miami 21—Joe Naman vs. Bob Griese should set up a pretty fair air war at Shea Stadium where Jets are ready to start tuning up for title game. Jets can't get by with one of those so-so efforts they sometimes turn in against lower clubs.

San Diego 27, Denver 14—With Dick Post and other Chargers lost to the Army, San Diego will have tough time sticking with Oakland and Kansas City down the stretch. This could be fatal unless John Hadl bounces back strong from New York disaster. Houston, Kansas City, Oakland and Cincinnati are idle after playing Thursday.

Fule Bug Hits Football Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
TORONTO (AP) — Frank Clair, coach of the Ottawa Rough Riders, joined nine Calgary Stampeder players in sick bay today. The Rough Riders and Stampeders clash here Saturday in the Grey Cup game for the championship of the Canadian Football League.

"I guess I've also got the flu bug," Clair said. "I don't know what caused it."

Memphis to Sink, Warns Geologist

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Memphis may start sinking into a hole by the side of the Mississippi River some day, but there's no need for the town folks to start thinking about fleeing to higher ground.

Any sinking that occurs will be so gradual it will be measured on a special instrument to be installed next month.

James H. Criner, hydrologist in charge of the water resources

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset division of the U.S. Geological survey here, said Thursday the town may start sinking soon because of the rate water is being pumped out from the ground beneath it. "I'm convinced that surface sinking is coming," he said. "It may be 50 years from now, but it is coming."

Memphis pumps its water—which it boasts is the best in the country—from a huge layer of sand about 500 feet beneath the surface. As the water is removed, Criner said, the sands take up less room and the city's foundation is weakened.

Last year about 64 billion gallons were pumped out and Criner said he doesn't think there would be any problem except the city is increasing its water usage by 1.8 billion gallons each year. "It isn't a serious problem, but it could be," he said. "In Houston, the surface has sunk as much as four feet in some places. There are places in California's Great Central Valley that are subsiding at a rate as high as one foot a year."

The Memphis Light, Gas & Water Division will begin drilling Dec. 2 a 1,400-foot well which the geologist's survey will use for its measuring device.

Criner said the chief danger of any sinkage would come from cracked water and gas mains and buckled streets. "One should not get the impression that huge craters or gaping

Americans Observe Thanksgiving

The traditional "thanks" of Thanksgiving Day, a holiday uniquely American among nations of the world, was tempered this year by scattered protests over those in need in a land of plenty.

While thousands of families sat down to turkey dinners with all the trimmings, 10 members of the War Resisters League holes would form suddenly," he said.

fasted outside a fashionable Beverly Hills, Calif., restaurant charging that "Americans are gluttons while millions starve."

During the annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade in Manhattan, featuring eight giant helium-filled balloons of cartoon characters, welfare protesters handed out leaflets to many of the 2.5 million spectators, at least half of them reading, "Thanks for nothing."

A spokesman said the protest was staged to show that "many thousands of poor children in this city and country will face empty plates today."

At Albany College, 10 students and an adviser ended a four-day fast Thursday aimed at calling attention to hunger. But thousands of the "have-nots" also sat down to holiday dinners, thanks to social agencies and organizations such as the Salvation Army, which played host to 1,000 homeless or needy at centers it operates in Manhattan, Brooklyn, the Bronx and Staten Island in New York City.

Two churches, in Harlem and the Bedford Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn, served needy or aged neighbors in church halls.

Symbolizing the holiday scene around the nation was the family gathering on the Texas ranch of President and Mrs. Johnson, celebrating with their daughters, grandchildren and friends.

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

NEW DRAGSTER TOY: The "Accelerometer" instrument measures acceleration and braking force in "Gs." Also can be used like a tack as a shift-point indicator. Company marketing the instrument claims it will be a help to gas mileage by watching acceleration and save brake lining by cutting down on fast stops. Hmmm!

BOOTS BOOTS! Lee Hazelwood has severed his ties with ABC Records and has severed his tie-ups with Nancy Sinatra. Lee will form his own label and duet with Ann-Margret. The split and new team-up coincide with the CBS TV Ann-Margret Special set for December 1 and will tag along with the lovely lady's 14-city personal appearance tour.

KEEP DAD AROUND LONGER: The bicycle people are on a very large promotional drive. One facet is to urge teens to put dad on wheels for health's sake. A family bike holiday on Fathers' Day last June attracted more than 500 cyclists who followed the Chicago Park commissioner over the 15-mile bikeway thru the city's well-planned parks. A family that cycles together doesn't cry-out!! (Ooooooh no!)

VOLUNTARY MOVIE RATINGS . . . GRRRR! Mr. Valenti hasn't heard the last of the teen protests against his idiotic voluntary classification system. Big beef: How come someone on the sun-set side of life is going to tell us what to see (and not to see)? Scorn and indignation are the key reactions. One thousand polled ninth graders themed: "What's the big deal? Usually the pictures that are banned are nothing. It's a publicity come-on." Are the pundits attempting to protect a generation from bad taste and is bad taste itself a danger? One industry spokesman says: "A majority of films are just plain pap so that when bad taste is added the result is at least flavored pap that can be promoted as for elderly eyes and imaginations only." The fraud of "voluntary censorship" is clearly aimed solely at avoiding government censorship. Teens say: "Violence and sex are everyday and all around. Why try to protect the innocent? We just aren't THAT innocent!"

THE GOING THING: Ford has formed a "group" of 12 and they look as though they have it made. Hand-picked by knowledgeable music makers, the boy-girl dozen have insured bread via their season-long Ford commercials. Next steps: an album and personal appearances. Jim Webb is rumored to be in on the action and writing special music for the big move to the tough world of Top 40 promotion. The group is clean, clean, clean. Their costumes are gaudy and, unlike the early Monkees they all had known musical talents before being tapped. Look for The Going Thing to (a) drive Fords and (b) start going up on the charts in early 1969. They have talent of their own, but big outside promotional talent and dollars are navigating a speedy future.

Editor Is Awarded NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph B. Kelly, racing editor of the Washington, D.C. Star, was named the winner today of the Bill Corum award for 1968 by the Thoroughbred Racing Associations. Kelly's story of Dancer's Image first-place finish in the Kentucky Derby won him the award.

Inventor In 1714, the English parliament offered 20,000 pounds sterling to the discoverer of a method of finding out longitude within 30 miles after a sea voyage of six weeks. It was awarded to John Harrison, inventor of the marine chronometer, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

RIVERSIDE, Calif.—(NEA)—There is little doubt about it: The American Road Race of Champions has won its stripes as just about the most exciting and hotly contested brand of racing available in this or any other country.

Last weekend, some 350 drivers gathered together to determine who among them were good enough to take home 20 Nine Flags Trophies, one for each class of Sports Car Club of America racing.

Thirty minutes of slambang, wheel-to-wheel competition determined the champions. Unlike other road races, run for perhaps 200 miles or from two to three hours where a mistake need not count for much, these drivers couldn't do anything wrong if they expected to win.

Consequently, tensions were tightly strung and spectators witnessed the best kind of all-out competition.

And these drivers, as the official line goes, are amateurs.

So the sometime sports fan, conditioned to the slick, Madison Avenue professionalism which has invaded many spectator sports, including motor racing, is likely to brush off the year-long struggle of thousands of "amateur" drivers as merely entertaining diversion. He couldn't be more wrong.

These "amateurs" have little in common with the participants in a sandlot softball game or with the crew who gather at the playground hoop or with the collection of duffers at the local country club.

They are at once dedicated and good enough to manage a very fast, beautifully prepared car around the twisting, intricate turns of a professional road course at speeds approximating that which the pros of the species can develop.

What's more, the traditional definition of the amateur—he who performs for pleasure, not for pay—no longer applies, at least for drivers in the American Road Race of Champions.

The drivers shored nearly $60,000 in awards, travel fund and side money, all perfectly legal and, in fact, encouraged by the SCCA. True, there was no official "purse money," just the trophies, but there is almost enough "other" cash to make a cross-country trek worthwhile.

The 20 champions, incidentally, also receive official race blazers from Clubman Sportscoats, a gesture from the Clubman people widely appreciated by both winners and losers.

There are still other indications that the ARRC is not a bush event. Manufacturers of automobiles and auto-oriented products are solidly backing the spectacle—with money, advertising, technical support and keen executive interest.

Nine Flags, the makers of men's grooming products who with Newspaper Enterprise Assn. and this newspaper are the sponsors of the event, believes that racing can move its products—and there are indications to believe that it has.

The company even developed nicely packaged eye drops for which the ARRC drivers served as a useful practical test. They thought them keen.

American Motors, which came close to winning a few "professional" Trans-American sedan races with its Javelin, entered a factory car at Riverside—and came close to winning.

A number of oil companies (STP, Valvoline, Wynns) put up hard cash to be earned by cars bearing the proper decals. The Union Oil Co. of California provided entrants with free gasoline and lubricants. American Airlines interested itself in the sport for the first time by hosting the awards dinner for 1,000 people. Volkswagen put up $2,500 to be shared by Formula Vee drivers.

As race grand marshal Dick Smothers, who also races cars for pleasure and money, pointed out, "If these guys are amateurs, so are Mario Andretti, Dan Gurney, A. J. Foyt and Denis Hulme. They may not be so widely known, nor so good, but they're getting there."

The race for the Nine Flags Trophies actually began in the early spring when several thousand SCCA drivers appeared for the first time of the season at courses sprinkled throughout the country.

As the season progressed, these thousands were whittled down to the few hundreds who won berths at Riverside.

And then, finally, there were 20 who are now called national champions.

Thanksgiving From Saigon

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A soldier in Vietnam placed this classified ad on Thanksgiving in the Birmingham News: "To Frances from Saigon:

"As we spend this 19th Thanksgiving Day of our marriage 10,000 miles apart, I wish the world to know what a wonderful wife and mother you are, 'Your husband.'"

The GI did not sign his name.

SAN FRANCISCO'S famed cable cars are made for the sort of steep going for which the city is noted, but this English double-decker bus has performed nearly as well up and down the hills. The bus is owned by a former Londoner Shaun Williams, who imported the vehicle to have a touch of home about.

"My Compass"

...the last on the Golden Rule. "Do Ye Even So Unto Them." We often paraphrase the Rule but it is extremely doubtful whether one could say it better than King James. There is the milk in the cocoanut. And the above portion of the Rule is the climatic phrase. We have declared what others should do, which is to say what is my duty... what I must do. We are bound up together. Then "together" is the significant word. There are rules in every game and the Golden Rule is simply saying play, but be fair about it. "Even So," makes it pretty limited. The patrolman allows no special privileges. I keep the common laws of the highway or I am denied the privilege of driving. Long, long ago a thoughtful man declared that God shows no partiality... He has no favorites. Any man who reverences Him and lives a good life is welcomed by Him. Therefore, the proposition is made. The challenge is before you to

"DO UNTO OTHERS AS YOU WOULD HAVE THEM DO UNTO YOU."

You In The Church
